I am a front end engineer with four years of experience building responsive, user-friendly web applications. I specialize in modern JavaScript frameworks, particularly NextJS and React. Over the years, I've worked on various projects, from business websites to complex web applications, focusing on performance optimization, accessibility and seamless user experience.

Bringing more than four years of experience leading website design projects, including gathering user's requirements, producing code, creating mockups and enhancing designs. Focused on creating clean and robust code. Achieves compatibility targets while meeting customer demands.

My passion lies in creating clean, efficient and scalable code while staying updated with the latest frontend technologies.
